In order to maximize the educational and networking opportunities for its members, DRI has established 29 Substantive Law Committees (SLCs) which focus more narrowly on specific practice areas. The list of these SLCs appears on the reverse side of this page. DRI believes that belonging to one or more SLCs greatly enhances the value of your membership in DRI and we encourage you to join those that interest you. Membership in an SLC is free of charge, requires no additional commitment or responsibility on your part, and you may belong to as many SLCs as you wish. Please indicate which SLC(s) you wish to join by marking the corresponding box(es) on the reverse side of this page.

* In-house counsel is defined as a licensed attorney who is employed exclusively by a corporate or other private sector organization, for the purpose of providing legal representation and counsel only to that corporation, its affiliates and subsidiaries.

JOIN A COMMITTEE

Joining a Committee is a great way to participate in DRI activities and rise in the leadership ranks.

DRI Committees provide numerous networking opportunities, through seminars, with members often participating as speakers and producing DRI Defense Library Series reference books, Committee Newsletters and articles in DRI's For The Defense and In-House Defense Quarterly magazines.

There is no additional cost to belong to a committee. To join, indicate your choices on the list below, complete your name and address, and mail or fax it to DRI, or submit the convenient online Committee Membership Form available at <http://www.dri.org>.
