LITIGATION SKILLS WORKSHOP

Wednesday, February 19, 12:30 p.m.–4:30 p.m.

From Blank Canvas to Masterpiece: The Art of the 30(b)(6) Deposition

With plaintiffs’ attorneys attempting to circumvent written discovery limitations through 30(b)(6) depositions, successful trial attorneys need to be attuned to analyzing and deconstructing the 30(b)(6) deposition notice properly and determining the appropriate corporate designees at the outset. Defense counsel can stop plaintiffs’ counsel in their tracks with thorough preparation of these witnesses and effective defense of these depositions. The DRI Litigation Skills Committee (formerly “Trial Tactics”) is excited to present the Litigation Skills Workshop in conjunction with this seminar, providing attendees of this interactive program with the tools necessary to push back on the deposition notice and ultimately prepare and defend the witness at deposition. One-on-one and small group exercises will ensure that you are prepared to mount an effective defense.

Space is limited and spots will go fast! See the registration form for pricing.

Diversity and Inclusion in DRI: A Statement of Principle

DRI is the largest international membership organization of attorneys defending the interests of business and individuals in civil litigation.

Diversity is a core value at DRI. Indeed, diversity, which includes sexual orientation, is fundamental to the success of the organization, and we seek out and embrace the innumerable benefits and contributions that the perspectives, backgrounds, cultures, and life experiences a diverse membership provides.

Inclusiveness is the chief means to increase the diversity of DRI's membership and leadership positions. DRI's members and potential leaders are often also members and leaders of other defense organizations. Accordingly, DRI encourages all national, state, and local defense organizations to promote diversity and inclusion in their membership and leadership.

Harassment and Discrimination

DRI is committed to the policy of equal opportunity regardless of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, national origin and disability in all of its programs and activities, as well as maintaining an environment in our programs and activities which is free from all forms of harassment or discrimination of any kind. Pursuant to this policy, if any person who attends our programs or activities experiences unlawful discrimination or harassment, this should be reported to the Executive Director so that appropriate action may be taken.

“It has all the benefits: marketing, networking, CLE credits (all at one time), interesting and pertinent topics. I have already recommended.”

Toxic Torts and Environmental Law Committee Resources and Opportunities

Toxic tort and environmental tort claims continue to be among the most challenging for the defense practitioner due to the evolution of new strategies and theories from the plaintiffs' bar. In an effort to help the defense law bar meet these challenges, the primary objective of the Toxic Torts and Environmental Law Committee is to provide members with the most current and reliable scientific, medical and legal information available. The committee fulfills this role through its annual seminar, an expert witness information sharing network, an electronic newsletter, and a dedicated issue of For The Defense, as well as by connecting practitioners with a vast network of accomplished defense attorneys.

The committee has actively encouraged participation of the American Chemistry Council and its member-company lawyers in committee activities, including planning and implementing our seminar. The involvement of ACC member-company lawyers in our committee has also provided an excellent opportunity to address, firsthand, the legal and practical issues that are most important to our client companies.

The committee membership is sophisticated, but also enjoys the special camaraderie of professionals dedicated to providing the best legal and scientific defense for individual clients and to the industry in general. If your practice is dedicated in whole or in part to the defense of toxic torts and/or environmental claims, you should become a member and take advantage of the benefits.
